Mindover Software Offers Assistance to Former MAS 500 Customers of MIS Group

Sage MAS 500 business partner based in Texas offered Sage its assistance to help MAS 500 customers caught off-guard by the Closure of Dallas-based MIS Group

Dallas, TX – July 23, 2009 – Mindover Software recently offered its assistance to Sage in an effort to help former customers of the MIS Group in the aftermath of that firm’s unexpected closure announced July 6, 2009.

“Mindover Software has been directly contacted by several former MIS Group customers,” says Lloyd Smith, the company’s president. “While we stand ready to help any MAS 500 customers that were receiving support from the MIS Group, we are also committed to working with Sage to ensure that all impacted MAS 500 customers receive the attention they deserve, regardless of their geographical location, during this difficult transition.”

The MIS Group, headquartered in Dallas, Texas, was one of Sage’s largest business partners, having won the prestigious Chairman’s Club award in 2008. Until the July 6th business closure, MIS Group had one of the largest install bases of MAS 500 software in North America.

Sage MAS 500 ERP is a reliable, robust, and integrated series of business applications that provide comprehensive functionality for companies with 20 to 1,000 employees, including advanced financials, distribution, manufacturing, CRM, HR, project accounting, and e-commerce. Sage MAS 500 is flexible, scalable, and full-featured, delivering a total business management solution.

“While we’re always sorry to see any Sage business partner firm close its doors, it really hits home when the firm happens to be based in Dallas, Texas, where we have one of our largest office locations,” Smith acknowledges. “Since the MIS Group closure has impacted more than just customers, we’ve also joined in talks with some of their former MAS 500 consultants in hopes of helping them find a home either with Mindover Software or another capable MAS 500 consulting firm.”
